The Paris Motor Show will be an opportunity for Dacia to celebrate a year of new sales records with its customers. It will also be a chance for Dacia to share the changes made to most of its line with them, including: the New Sandero, Sandero Stepway, Logan, and Logan MCV, which are more attractive than ever, but still at the best possible price.

Dacia unveils its four new models

On the design side, the front end panel was reconfigured on all four models, giving them a family look. The bumper, grille, and air vents go farther, confirming these vehicles' robust nature. The new lights, which now use LEDs, are more elegant and modern looking. They form four rectangles, which come together to make the new Dacia lighting signature. The rear lights on the Sandero, Sandero Stepway, and Logan have also been redesigned in the same spirit. On the interior, expect changes to the features, materials, ergonomics, storage areas, and more.

Four models redesigned from the inside out, including the engine, are on the programme... come see them at the Paris Motor Show during the press conference on Thursday, 29 September at 10:45 a.m. in Hall 1 at the Dacia stand.

This conference will be led by Jean-Christophe Kugler, Executive Vice President and Chairman of the Europe Region.

The Dacia press conference is open to everyone and it will also be simulcast on www.groupe.renault.com as well as on www.facebook.com/Dacia
