Boulogne-Billancourt, France, February 22, 2018 – Renault, Alpine and Dacia will each be present with stands at the 2018 Geneva Motor Show and during media days (March 6-7).

Renault to show a new concept focused on shared urban mobility

For 120-years Renault has been passionate about making life easier for customers. In keeping with Renault's Easy Life brand promise, Renault has chosen the 2018 Geneva Motor Show to take the wraps of its brand new concept which embodies its vision for shared urban mobility.

New power plants for enhanced driving enjoyment

Driving enjoyment will also be central to Renault's presence at the 2018 Geneva Motor Show with the introduction of:

- A new R110 motor for ZOE,
- A new-generation 1.3-litre Energy TCe engine for Captur and Scenic developed jointly by the Renault-Nissan-Mitsubishi Alliance and its partner Daimler,
- A new engine for Talisman and an exclusive new version of the model.

Renault will hold a press conference at its stand in Hall 4 at 9:00 am on Tuesday, March 6. This press conference will be streamed live on www.group.renault.com.

A media round table will be hosted on March 6 at 4.15 pm at the Renault stand to go deeper on shared urban mobility solutions. It will be presented by:

- Laurens van den Acker, Senior Vice President Corporate Design, Groupe Renault
- Ogi Redzic, Senior Vice President Connected Vehicles and Mobility Services, Renault-Nissan Alliance
- Ali Kassaï, Senior Vice President Product Planning, Groupe Renault

Registration is mandatory by sending an email to: renault.media@renault.com

Alpine A110

Alpine returns to the Geneva Motor Show (Hall 4) to present the latest developments on the A110 and its motorsport programme.

Alpine will hold a press conference on its stand in Hall 4 at 9:30 am on Tuesday, March 6.

Dacia still on top

After a record performance year in 2017, and with the commercial launch of the All-new Duster in full swing, Dacia will be presenting a new limited-edition for its Stepway family in Hall 2.

Senior Groupe Renault management and senior management representing all brands will be available for interviews. Please contact the local Renault press office as soon as possible to request an interview.
